Preserve gets new chief

William H. Natter, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, has been named as vice president for ABC Scenic and Wildlife Attractions' Delaware Corporation and general manager for the Wildlife preserve, the newest addition to American Broadcasting Companies' Scenic and Wildlife Division.

The wildlife preserve, a 280-acre drive-through wildlife park, is located in Prince George's County, 12 miles from downtown Washington, and is scheduled to open in the summer of 1974.

Natter first entered the leisure-time industry with C.T. Industries as vice-president of the corporation.

Prior to accepting his present position, Natter acted as marketing and business management representative for Electronic Data Systems, sharing responsibility with the corporate vice-president.
